EXPERT BUSINESS CONSULTING AND ON DEMAND IMPORT AND EXPORT OPERATIONS.

An enormous amount of consulting is theoretical and done by wonderfully-intended and knowledgeable people, but their empirical understanding of the complexities of the situation is limited, particularly regarding things that have many moving parts and multiple impact points. Business consulting is about being able to look at a problem and opportunity in a non-static way and see it dynamically.

When you work with a capable logistics partner, door-to-door international shipping shouldn't be complicated for shippers; However, but behind the scenes it's a complex process. REPRESENTATION TO TRADE SHOW EVENTS

The North American market is vast and very competitive and requires the skills, tools and means necessary to reach targeted audiences through the information jungle. EUROGATOR's U.S.-based multilingual staff has vast experience from and deep knowledge of the North American market and international trade shows and provides show organizers with the in-market expertise and resources necessary for expanding the North American presence at their events. We have built segmented databases for industries covered by its trade show portfolio, continuously updated and expanded through data capturing, industry events, trade associations and media.

The United States has a population of nearly 320 million and the world's largest economy. Despite constantly huge trade deficits the number of U.S. exporting companies is less than 1% as U.S. manufacturers and service providers concentrate on domestic sales in the world's toughest market, ignoring potential export market opportunities.

On similar grounds, many Romanian manufacturers face challenging situations when it is about to export to the United States or import from the US.

Understanding of international marketing among industry decision makers is therefore limited and EUROGATOR LLC facilitates international trade show participation decisions by connecting new-to-export and new-to-market companies to sources of market information and export assistance.
